> Times-Disputch Bureau, 109 North Sycamore Street,

Petersburg, Va., April 4. Pursuant to the order of adjourn ment, the Hustings Court met this morning for the purpose of fixing the time for hearing motions in the Appo-mattox Trust Company cases and for the trials of the several indictments against Carter R. Bishop and Charles Itall Davis. All of the twelve cases in which they are jointly indicted, as hav been set forth in this correspondence, were continued by the court to the April term, which begins on Thursday, the 29th instant.

The court also continued to the same term all of the eleven cases in which Carter R. Bishop is 'ndicted individ ually on the charge of making false statements, as cashier of the Appomattox Trust Company, of the financial condition of the bank to the Corporation Commission. The court, however, fixed next Friday, April 7, for hearing objections to the Bishop indictments.

It is highly probable that a perma-ent organization will be formed, and for prosecuting the work in hand. That part of the capital-to-capital highway lying between Richmond and the Carolina line via Petersburg has been an eyesore to the people living along the proposed route for a long time, and interest is aroused to such an extent that it is believed the money can be raised without trouble.

Such will be the aim of the conference, and every effort will be made to make possible the completion of the roadway before the summer months have passed.

On weanesday and Friday of this week.

The 1 to 0 victory over Amherst, in which each team fielded a perfect game, brought confidence in the defensive ability of the team.

After leaving Chapel Hill, the Amherst squad went to Charlottesville and took two games from the University of Virginia. But the Carolina fans are not puffed up over this fact. They remember that the games were lost by the wildness of the Virginia pitchers, and not by the ability of the Northerners to hit the Virginians. This Virginia Harned, who is touring this season under her own management, presenting her latest successful play. "The Woman He Married." is announced at the Academy Friday night. No better play could have been secured than the "Woman He Married." by Herbert Bashford, for Miss Virginia Marned to display her splendid talents that have made her recognized by the theatre-going public as America's leading actress. Several of this country's greatest managers tried hard to secure the play from Mr. Bashford, but he had only one actress in view and he offered it to Miss Harned. "The Woman He Married" is described as a play of to-day, and crities who have been fortunate enough to witness it have been universal in their praise of both the play and its production. Northerners to hit the Virginians. This fault will in all probability be remedled by the time that the two teams face each other in Greensboro.

BOWLING SEASON

COMES TO CLOSE

The most discouraging thing about Carolina prospects now is the fact that Captain Hackney may not be in the same. In the third inning of the first Lafayette game last Friday, with the score 1 to 0 against his team. Captain Hackney was hurt in making a sensational run for a dinky, close-in fly from the bat of one of the Pennsylvanians. He made a wonderful run and dived when the ball was three feet from the ground. He caught the ball in his hands, and it looked as if a double play was certain, but the momentum of his run carried him over in a complete somersault, injuring his right shoulder, so that he had to leave Virg bivision, United Confederate Veterans some time ago appointed the services.
